THERE ARE NO PROPOSED CHANGES TO THE SATURDAY OR SUNDAY SCHEDULES

ATTENTION BNSF RAILWAY CUSTOMERS

Due to the upcoming implementation of the Positive Train Control (PTC) safety system, Metra must make adjustments to the BNSF schedule. PTC is a federally mandated safety system that will automatically stop a train if the engineer fails to obey a signal or exceeds the speed limit. PTC increases safety by preventing train-to-train collisions, unauthorized entry into work zones and derailments due to speeding or moving through misaligned track switches.

When PTC is fully implemented, it will affect how quickly trains will be able to turn around. To handle as many passengers as it does during the morning rush period, Metra must quickly turn trains around at downtown stations and send them back out to make more inbound trips. The same applies to the evening rush period, as trains complete their trips to the suburbs and turn back to pick up more customers downtown. Metra calls this process "flipping" a train, and it will take longer because of PTC.

This proposed schedule takes into account the longer "flip" times, and it also makes adjustments to address capacity issues. Details about these proposed changes can be found at metrarrail.com.

Please review how this schedule would affect your trips and send any comments to BNSFservice2018@metrarr.com. Metra may revise the proposal based on feedback.

ATTENTION BNSF RAILWAY CUSTOMERS

Due to the upcoming implementation of the Positive Train Control (PTC) safety system, Metra must make adjustments to the BNSF schedule. PTC is a federally mandated safety system that will automatically stop a train if the engineer fails to obey a signal or exceeds the speed limit. PTC increases safety by preventing train-to-train collisions, unauthorized entry into work zones and derailments due to speeding or moving through misaligned track switches.

When PTC is fully implemented, it will affect how quickly trains will be able to turn around. To handle as many passengers as it does during the morning rush period, Metra must quickly turn trains around at downtown stations and send them back out to make more inbound trips. The same applies to the evening rush period, as trains complete their trips to the suburbs and turn back to pick up more customers downtown. Metra calls this process "flipping" a train, and it will take longer because of PTC.

This proposed schedule takes into account the longer "flip" times, and it also makes adjustments to address capacity issues. Details about these proposed changes can be found at metrarrail.com.

Please review how this schedule would affect your trips and send any comments to BNSFservice2018@metrarr.com. Metra may revise the proposal based on feedback.
